

Discounted CDA funding helps members support economic-development and mixed-use initiatives in their communities.

CDA funds can be used to provide financing for the purchase, construction, rehabilitation, and/or predevelopment financing of:

- Commercial initiatives, such as shopping centers, office buildings, hotels, and retail stores;
- Industrial and manufacturing initiatives, such as factories, bakeries, warehouses, and assembly plants;
- Public-facility initiatives, such as buildings and vehicles for police and fire departments;
- Social-service initiatives, such as office space for nonprofits, program facilities, hospitals, nursing homes (excluding assisted living facilities), and day-care centers;
- Public or private infrastructure projects, such as roads, sidewalks, utilities, and sewers.

Mixed-Use Initiatives

Project Type	Eligibility Requirements
Mixed-Use	Members may use CDA funds to provide financing for initiatives that involve a combination of economic development and affordable housing. To be eligible for such an advance, the economic-development component of the initiative must meet at least one of the eligibility criteria for economic-development initiatives, as shown above. There are no eligibility requirements for the housing portion of a mixed-use initiative.

Eligible Financing Activities

Members may use CDA funds to:

- Originate eligible loans;
- Fund eligible loans that were originated up to three months before receiving the CDA;
- Refinance eligible economic-development initiatives;
- Make loans to entities that, in turn, make loans for eligible economic-development initiatives; or
- Purchase a participation interest, or provide financing to participate, in a loan consortium for eligible economic-development initiatives.

Limits: Each member will have access to fund a maximum annual CDA limit of $35 million.

To ensure that each member will fund no more than $35,000,000 in CDA during any one calendar year, each member's CDA limit and approvals will be managed based on the following calculation:

CDA: $35,000,000 Member Funding Limit

- Less any unexpired approvals with an available for disbursement balance greater than $0
- Less CDA disbursements during current calendar year
- Less the total amount requested of any submitted (unapproved) CDA application(s)

The Federal Home Loan Bank of Boston reserves the right to further limit the total amount of CDA funding available or to limit the amount of CDA available per member without notice.

Application: Members can apply online for a CDA through the "Housing & Economic Growth" section of the Bank's web site — under Forms & Applications click on the "Community Development advance (members only)" link or at <https://housing.fhlbboston.com>. The Bank will review applications within 10 business days.

Available Products and Maturities: CDA are available in maturities of one year and longer. Three kinds of advances are always available: Classic, Member-Option, and Amortizing. Classic advances are fixed-rate advances with interest due monthly and principal due at maturity. Member-Option advances are fixed-rate advances that are repayable without fee on specified cancellation dates. Other prepayment structures may also be available. Amortizing advances are fixed-rate advances with monthly payments of interest and principal. Other terms and maturities may be available upon request.

Forward Rate Commitment: To guard against rising interest rates, members may purchase a forward rate commitment to lock in the current rate for disbursement on a future date. Members may call our Money Desk at 800-357-3452 for pricing information on forward rate commitments.

Take-Down and Disbursement: Taking down a CDA is simple. Once the application is approved, the member calls our Money Desk to take down the funds.

Expirations: Approvals for CDA expire six months from the date of approval. If a member is unable to take down a CDA within the specified take-down period, the member may submit a new application, provided that the funds requested are within their CDA limit availability.

Spread: When making a loan using the funds from a CDA, the member's spread on the loan may not exceed its standard spread on similar loans.

Reporting: Applications approved under the CDA Extra program are subject to the Federal Home Loan Bank of Boston' "Beneficiary Eligibility" reporting requirement. Members can provide documentation supporting program eligibility at the time of application or after disbursement. Documentation is subject to review and confirmation of compliance by the Federal Home Loan Bank of Boston. For more information, please go to www.fhlbboston.com/communitydevelopment/cda/03_03_05_terms.jsp.

Income Eligibility: For loans qualified by income, the household income must be at or below 115 percent of area median income for a rural initiative or 100 percent of area median income for an urban initiative for a family of four based on the income guidelines as published annually by HUD. For loans qualified by income for the location, the census tract in which the property is located must be at or below 115 percent of area median income for a rural initiative or 100 percent of area median income for an urban initiative for the area as determined using www.ffiec.gov for the address or census tract.
